DOKETTY's trained Dogs, Monkeys and Goats perform at Odd Fellows' Hall, Newport, Ky., this evening.

The attendance of children on Saturday afternoons, at the tent, is now quite numerous. The ringing is good.

Quite a number of our citizens will go to Oxford to-morrow to participate in the ceremonies of the opening of the new Junction Railroad from Hamilton to that place.

Don't forget the Neal Dow Temple L. O. G. F. go on a picnic to Parlor Grove this morning. Prof. McDonald, with his excellent cotton band, will furnish music for the occasion.

Again we are compelled to acknowledge the receipt of a most beautiful bouquet, composed of sweet flowers, etc. Thanks to the fair donor.

The numerous gas jets of Pike's Opera House have to be lighted singly. Some one is experimenting to light them all at once by electricity.

JOHNSON, SAUNDERS & Co., of Burnett House, sustained a good reputation during the throng of yesterday, in entertaining their numerous guests.

The scholars of the Park street M. E. Church go on a picnic excursion to Parlor Grove to-morrow. The fine pleasure boat, Champion No. 3, has been engaged for the occasion, and a good time may be expected.

PERSONAL.—We had the pleasure yesterday of taking by the hand our old friend H. H. Scarborough, Esq., one of the most extensive dry goods dealers of Hillsboro', Ohio. Mr. S. reports the wheat and fruit crop in Highland perfectly safe.

A GENTLEMAN, a stranger in the city, while witnessing the trial of our steam Fire Engine, yesterday, in Fifth Street Market Space, was robbed of his pocket book, containing $75 in bank bills, together with several papers of value.

We are under obligations to E. Mendenhall, Map Publisher, No. 165 Walnut street, for a beautiful map of the seat of war. This map is a handsome colored lithograph, by Middleton, Strobidge & Co., and is worthy the attention of our readers.

We take pleasure in calling the attention of the public to the establishment of Messrs. Redman & Durand, merchant tailors, No. 137 Main street. They have just received a splendid invoice of new styles of summer goods, which they offer at reasonable prices. By all means give them a call.

The fine steamer launched at Hamilton's ship yard, in the Seventeenth Ward, of which we made mention a few days since as 180 feet length, and 180 feet beam, is now afloat. Her owners have been taken off, which, according to the idea of "Ed," makes a decided improvement.

It is reported that the excursionists from Chicago to this city drank eighty-five gallons of ice water between Dayton and Cincinnati. They were supplied by Chas. M. Steele's newboys. This speaks well for the sobriety of the Chicagoans. Charley, why didn't you mix in a "wee drop" of Catawba?

The nomination of Judge Gholson, of this city, to the honorable post of Judge of the Supreme Court of Ohio, if acceptable to him, which we believe it is, is equivalent to his election. All parties can unite on him.

For other nominations made yesterday, see telegraph column.

MR. ALEXANDER SCOTT, leader of the Chicago Band was serenaded at the Gibson House last night by Menter's Cornet Band, of this city. Mr. O. Harris, the gentlemanly clerk of the "Gibson" threw open his doors, and entertained the party in a hospitable style. Long live Menter and the Gibson.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—A young clerk in a dry goods store on Fifth street, in coming down the flight of steps leading from the Casino, last evening, met with rather a serious accident, which resulted in the loss of both his boots. It appears that the gentleman was so much elated with the music of the Casino orchestra, that he lost his balance and fell head over heels down stairs, leaving the latter behind. They were picked up by an eye-witness and brought to our office, where the proper owner can regain them by calling.

PETTY SPIES.—The following little piece of petty spite was related to us yesterday by a friend, who vouches for the truthfulness of the statement. It appears that a young married man, a painter by trade, was engaged in varnishing a sofa at his residence in the West End, a few days since, when his wife, in passing by, accidentally overtopped his varnish bucket, thereby spilling the contents on the floor. Mr. Painter became very indignant, so much so that he seized a new silk dress, the property of his better half, and gave it a complete coat of varnish, after which he exclaimed: "How do you like that?" A smart man, that, don't you think so, ladies?

THE RAILROAD EXCURSIONISTS.

Their Arrival at Cincinnati.

Reception at Merchants' Exchange.

In consequence of a detention near Dayton, the train bearing the excursionists from Chicago, Port Wayne, Lima, Milwaukee and other points, did not arrive here until half past four o'clock yesterday morning. The various committees were in waiting to receive them, and they were escorted by proper conveyance to the principal hotels. Among the guests, between six and seven hundred in number, are the following gentlemen:

Mayor of Chicago, John C. Haines. City Controller, S. D. Ward. City Treasurer, Alonzo Harvey. City Attorney, George P. Crocker. Prosecutor of the Court, C. R. Jones. Bridwell Cooper, William J. Jones. Captain Police, John M. Kennedy. City Marshal, Jacob Rehn. Police Justice, Andrew Allen. Recorder Court, Robert S. Wilson. State's Attorney, Carlos Haven. County Judge, B. L. Morris. County Clerk, H. S. Fawcett. Clerk Court Com. Pleas, Walter Kimball. City Clerk, Herman Kreisman. Probate Judge, W. G. Bascom. Clerk of Circuit Court, Wm. L. Church. Ex-Sheriff, John S. Wilson. Ex-City Attorney, John C. Miller. Ex-Lieut. Gov. of Va., E. W. McComas. Ex-City Attorney, John L. Marsh. Ex-Mayor, Walter S. Guernsey. Ex-Postmaster, William Price. Judge Gross, of Milwaukee. Ex-State's Attorney, Dan'l McElroy. Chief Engineer of Fire Dept., W. Harris.

The press of Chicago were represented by the following gentlemen: Tribune, Wm. Bross, Jas. B. Bally. Times, John W. Sheehan, Wm. Price. Herald, C. Kellogg. Journal, John Z. Wilson. Democrat, Thos. C. Forrest. Sunday Leader, S. P. Rounds.

MILWAUKEE, WISCONSIN. Judge Gross and lady; S. C. Neesh, President of the Board of Aldermen; John H. Teesh, of the Board of Councils; ex-Mayor W. A. Prentiss; Wm. Brown, Jr.; G. D. Moins; G. S. Douceman; Roland Olmsted; Winfield Smith; C. J. Cary; Rev. N. A. Staples, of Unitarian Church; R. G. Brown, Clerk of Newhall House; Miss Lizzie Crawford; Miss Wilson; Mrs. E. W. Sawyer; Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Wilson; G. K. Kimball; Dr. Jas. Duford; John Davis and lady; J. P. Birchard; T. O. McGrew; A. C. Wheeler, Daily Sentinel; M. M. Pomeroy, Daily News; G. P. Gifford, Daily Wisconsin; L. L. Cromie, Free Democrat; J. P. Willard.

After relieving themselves of the fatigue incidental to their trip, the guests were escorted to the various public institutions, including the Mercantile Library, Mechanics' Institute, Merchants' Exchange, etc.

At eleven o'clock the guests and citizens assembled at Merchants' Exchange.

Mr. Torrence, President of the Chamber of Commerce, called the assembly to order, and extended to the excursionists the hospitality of the city. He then introduced his honor Mayor Bishop, who said:

Gentlemen of Milwaukee and Chicago—It is with pleasure I am called upon to bid you a hearty welcome to the city. We are glad to see you in our midst. We trust you will enjoy yourselves to the utmost of your anticipations as long as you are among us. We shall use our utmost endeavors to make your visit agreeable.

Mayor Bishop then personally introduced Mayor Haynes, of Chicago, who spoke as follows:

It gives me pleasure, in behalf of the citizens of Chicago, to return our heartfelt thanks for the kind reception which has been tendered us by the Queen City of the West. We come to exchange friendly greetings with you. We have just been bound together by those iron links introduced in the last half century, and we long as you we may be bound together in the indissoluble bands of friendship and mutual interest. From the new road we are celebrating we expect to derive mutual advantages in a commercial point of view.

We came from the north—from the land of the prairie, and where the waves of the Michigan bent on our shores. We trust the day is not far distant when we shall have the opportunity to return the kindness you have shown us, and tender the hospitalities of Chicago to the citizens of the Queen City.

Mayor Bishop here introduced Mr. L'Hommedieu, President of the Hamilton and Dayton Railroad, who said he did not intend to make a speech, but merely to announce the PROGRAMME FOR THE DAY.

After leaving the Hall, a visit would be paid to the Wine Cellars of Mr. N. Longworth, who had extended an invitation to all.

From two to three o'clock Pike's Opera House would be thrown open for inspection.

At three o'clock the fire engines of Shaw and Lane (one of each of the city) would be exhibited at Fifth-street Market Space.

At four and a half o'clock, omnibuses would be in readiness to convey such as desired to the surrounding hills, and subsequently to the residence of Mr. B. H. Porter, Esq., at Clifton.

A MEMBER OF THE BOARD OF TRADE.

At this point, Mr. Torrence introduced Dr. Engin, a representative of the Chicago Board of Trade, who remarked:

I belong to an official body who, just at this crisis, are so busy that they cannot come themselves greet you. Though I hardly know why I have been called upon, unless it is for the reason that an Irishman is always expected to say something; but I fear that I have become so Yankeeized that I have lost somewhat of the brogue of the mother country.

The iron band which now unites us is only another commercial link to open up the avenues of trade, and encourage social and friendly feelings between us. This is a nation of the people—not of a sovereign. It is an evidence of the progress of the age. The people are the sovereigns in this land, and each of the five hundred who with you this day feels himself a sovereign.

We acknowledge the genius of the Queen City, with its two hundred thousand inhabitants, (over that) while we can boast of but one hundred thousand. You have a beautiful river to carry down your steamers loaded with your products, and returning bring the riches of the South and lay them at your feet.

Our merchants are now merchant princes, and are surrounded by beautiful villas for their horticulturalists to emulate. You make the best of wine, and the name of Longworth will go down to posterity as long as the name of America exists. Smith O'Brien said his Sparkling Catawba was the purest wine he ever tasted. In wine-making we cannot hope to compete with you. The Board of Trade of Chicago go in for the red-mouthed, and buy up every bushel of grain they can find at a rate which leaves but little margin for profit. (Laughter.)

We have learned a lesson in real estate from Cincinnati—such men as Green, Gurvey and others; we intend to take advantage of it. Cincinnati is our Athens, and we look to her for example and wisdom, as did Rome, in other days, look to Athens for law and government.

Mayor Bishop then announced that the Horticultural Society had opened the door of their Fair to the excursionists during their stay, and that the President of the Indianapolis Railroad had tendered a free passage to such as desired to visit his road. It was also announced that the doors of the National Theatre would be thrown open to-night for the free entertainment of the guests.

When the reception at the Merchants' Exchange was concluded, about three hundred of
